Sydney, November 28. 8403

AT A PUBLIC MEETING convened by public advertisement, and held at the Cornwall Hotel, Launceston, Van Diemen's Land, on Tuesday, the 4th November, 1845,—

WILLIAM ARCHER, Esq., in the chair,

The following resolutions were carried unanimously:—

Moved by W. P. Weston, Esq., and seconded by J. Sinclair, Esq.:—

1. That this meeting has heard with feelings of deep regret and disappointment, that the Honorable the House of Commons has refused to admit grain and flour, the produce of the Australasian colonies, into Great Britain, upon the same terms as grain and flour the produce of Canada, by rejecting the motion of Mr. Hutt, on the 8th day of May last, made in accordance with the prayer of the various petitions forwarded from the respective Australasian colonies to that effect.

Moved by T. Bartley Esq, and seconded by M. Gaunt, Esq.:—

2. That the best thanks of this Meeting, and of the colonists in general, are especially due to Mr. Hutt, the honorable member for Gateshead, for the zealous and disinterested exertions he has made in behalf of the Australasian colonies, more particularly by his motion in the House of Commons on the 8th day of May last, before referred to. And also, to the honorable members of the House who so nobly supported him in the debate on the said motion; and to the editors of the Times, and other London journals, who have in so able a manner advocated the cause of the colonists.

Moved by S. E. Harvey, Esq., and seconded by James Robertson, Esq.:—

3. That this meeting tenders its warmest acknowledgments to Mr Henry Buckle, and the Committee of merchants of which he is chairman, for the watchful care they have exercised over the interests of the colonists, and for the zealous and well directed efforts they have made in their behalf.

Moved by H. Reed, Esq., and seconded by W. Paton, Esq.:—

4. That this Meeting considering that the present amount of duty levied upon the importation of grain and flour, the produce of the Australasian colonies, into Great Britain, effectually prevents their obtaining a remunerating price for the same, and amounts almost to a prohibition, and further considering that upon every principle of justice and equity, the Australasian colonies are equally entitled with Canada to receive the privilege they seek, this Meeting resolves immediately to address another petition on the subject to the House of Commons, and forward it to Mr. Hutt, with a request that he will be pleased to present the same.

Moved by J. W. Gleadow, Esq., and seconded by H. Rowcroft, Esq.:—

5. That the Petition now submitted to the Meeting be adopted, and that a copy of the same, and of the resolutions now passed, be forwarded to Mr. Henry Buckle and the Committee of which he is Chairman, with a request that they will procure their insertion in the Times newspaper, and also forward copies of the same to Mr. Hutt, and every other member of the House of Commons.

Moved by Thomas Walker, Esq., and seconded by Captain Neilley:—

6. That the following gentlemen be requested to act as a Committee to procure signatures to the Petition, and to forward the same to its destination; and that it be inserted in all the Launceston, and one of the Hobart Town newspapers.

COMMITTEE:

W. Archer, Esq.	John Sinclair, Esq.
James Cox, Esq.	Horace Rowcroft, Esq.
J. W. Gleadow, Esq.	M. Gaunt, Esq.
Henry Reed, Esq.	T. B. Bartley, Esq.
James Henty, Esq.	James Robinson, Esq.
James Raven, Esq.	Dr. Paton
A. M'Naughton, Esq.	Stuart E. Harvey, Esq.

The Chairman having vacated the chair, and Mr. Reed having been called thereto, it was proposed by Captain Neilley, seconded by J. Sinclair, Esq., and carried by acclamation,

7. That the thanks of the Meeting be presented to William Archer, Esq., for his able and impartial conduct in the chair.

HUGH TAYLOR,
GENERAL AGENT, PARRAMATTA,

BEGS leave to inform his friends and the public in general, that the last day for issuing summonses for the next sittings of the Court of Requests to be held at Parramatta, is on the 7th January next; therefore no time must be lost in settling their accounts with him, if they do not wish to appear before his Honor the Commissioner.

BATHURST ACADEMY.

MR. HENRY MAYNE, A.B., T.C.D., begs leave to acquaint the inhabitants of Bathurst and the surrounding district, that, encouraged by the kind assurances of the parents and guardians of youth to whom he has been introduced, and also by the want generally expressed of a seminary which would impart instruction in the higher branches of education, as well as in those of more ordinary usefulness, he has taken the premises in Keppel street, Bathurst, formerly occupied by Mr. Meade, which he has opened as an academy of general literature, the courses of which will embrace

In Classics: The Greek and Latin authors, read for entrance into the Universities of the mother-country, besides Exercises and Theses.

In Science: Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Arithmetic.

In English: The sacred Scriptures, (to which constant and particular attention will be given), Elocution, Composition, Reading, Letter-writing, History, Grammar, Spelling, Geography, Writing.

Together with all the essentials comprised in a solid education; and he pledges himself that both he and his assistants shall devote unremitting attention to the culture and encouragement of sound principles in the youth committed to his care; and also, to their personal comforts, moral and religious habits, and gentlemanlike deportment.

ENLARGEMENT
MAITLAND MERCURY,
AND PUBLICATION TWICE A WEEK.

FROM the 1st January, 1846, the MAITLAND MERCURY will be ENLARGED from 20 to 24 columns, and will be PUBLISHED TWICE A WEEK viz., on WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY MORNINGS.

TERMS—Subscription: 9s. per quarter, or 8s. if paid in advance. Advertisements: 3s. for the first inch (nine lines) and under, and 1s. for every additional inch, each insertion.

In announcing this change, the proprietors of the Mercury return their sincere thanks for the liberal and steady support which they have during the last three years received from the public, and more particularly from the inhabitants of Maitland and the Hunter River District, and respectfully solicit a continuance of that support. The additional matter which the Mercury in its enlarged form will contain (equal to about six columns of the present size), and the early and ample information on all subjects of local and general interest which its conductors will be able, under the proposed arrangements to furnish, will, it is hoped, render it worthy of the continued support of its present friends, and secure for it an increased circulation. In making the change, the proprietors have preferred looking to an increase in the number of subscribers, rather than in the amount of subscription, for a return for the increased outlay which it will render necessary.

Particular attention will still be devoted by the Mercury to the affairs and interests of the Hunter River District, and increased exertions will be made to secure a more ample and regular supply of local and district news.

The digest of Sydney and Colonial Intelligence will also be more copious than heretofore; and during the sittings of the Legislative Council the proceedings will be given more at length.

Hitherto the want of space has rendered the various files of English newspapers received by the conductors of the Mercury almost useless. In future they will be able to give more complete and interesting summaries of English news; and while they take care to study the taste of the general reader, they will endeavour also to supply information more peculiarly interesting to their agricultural and sporting friends.

The increased circulation which the Mercury in its new form is likely to obtain will make it a more valuable medium for advertising; and the proprietors therefore venture to hope for a continuance of the liberal support which they have hitherto received from their advertising friends in the district and in Sydney.

Subscribers' names, and orders for advertisements, will be received by the proprietors, TUCKER and JONES, Mercury Office, West Maitland; or by their agents at the following places:—Black Creek, Mr. Edward Franks; Cassilis, Mr. James Piper; Clarence Town, Mr J. C. Williams; Coolah, Mr. S. Stephenson; Dungog, Mr. Thomas Abbott; Hinton, Mr. Samuel Davison; Jerry's Plains, Mr. J. Harpur; Merton, Mr. W. Everness; Murrurundi, Mr. A. Wightman; Muswell Brook, Mr. P. Hegarty; Newcastle, Mr. G. Felton; Paterson, Mr. G. Wilkinson; Raymond Terrace, Mr. J. K. Houlding; Seone, Mr. Thomas Dangar; Singleton, Mr. T. Hope; Sydney, Mr H. KING-STREET WINE VAULTS,

BETWEEN GEORGE AND YORK STREETS.

M. CASSIDY

RESPECTFULLY informs his friends and the public, that having opened his house, King-street West, under the sign of the "King-street Wine Vaults," for the Retail of Wines, Ale, Porter, and other Fermented Liquors, all of the very best quality in the market, he expects a share of that patronage so liberally bestowed upon others.

As the Retail Prices are only a small advance on the Wholesale Prices, well known to the public, so as to merely cover the expense of license, &c., the lovers of a salubrious glass will find by a single trial, that the only place to obtain it is at the KING-STREET WINE VAULTS.

N. B.—Settlers and publicans sojourning in Sydney from the interior, would do well to call, as they can be as well accommodated as elsewhere, and if they could not suit themselves at Cassidy's Wholesale Wine Cellars, King-street, they would have the advantage of his experience in the Wine and Spirit Trade, to obtain the best goods, and at the cheapest prices in the city. 9043

He has also just opened

Two cases girls' and women's strong Dunstable bonnets, at 1s. 6d. and 2s. each

Two trunks boys' and youths' brown holland blouses, and gentlemen's summer coats, trousers, &c., &c.

The whole of the stock has been reduced far below the original cost, for the purpose of clearing out as much as possible of the best goods previous to the next sale by auction, in January.

Families, dealers, and the public generally, have now an opportunity of purchasing every description of Drapery, Hosiery, Haberdashery, and Silk Mercery, at such prices as must astonish even the most credulous.

R. NOTT begs to inform his friends and the public, that he is about to remove his workshop from the south side of Bridge-street, to his own premises on the opposite side of the way, where he intends carrying on the manufacturing business as he has hitherto done.

Perceiving the great inconvenience to which Captains of ships and others are now put for want of such an establishment at the north end of the town, R. Nott has, in addition to those branches of the business to which he has lately turned his attention, opened a Store for the sale of Ironmongery of every description, particularly such as is required by the vessels lying at the various wharfs.

As his goods will be of the best description, and his charges moderate, he invites those requiring articles in the above line to call and inspect them

Important to the Shipping Interest.—We are desirous of making known the following ingenious and successful experiment, which has been practised on the Thomas Lowry, now lying in this harbour. It will be remembered, that this vessel arrived here from London, about a month since, with loss of rudder, which had been carried away in a gale of wind off the Cape of Good Hope, in lieu of which, an excellent temporary rudder had been shipped, which brought her on to Sydney. Upon arrival here, it was ascertained, that the lower brace, situated on the stern-post, about two feet from the keel, was broken. To replace this brace, without going on the Patent Slip, or being hove down, Mr. Dawson, of Lower George-street, immediately volunteered, and for this purpose constructed a coffer-dam, which was, on Saturday last, fitted to the ship's stern-post, and in the space of twenty hours from the commencement of pumping out the dam, the old rudder brace had been taken off, and a new one cast, and bolted on in its place. The complete success of this undertaking is an important feature connected with the shipping interest in this harbour, and will render the incapacity of the Patent Slip for taking on large vessels of no importance, as Mr. Dawson expresses himself most confidently that the principle of the coffer-dam can be carried out to any extent.

NEW SOUTH WALES STATISTICS.

SUNDRIES.

We have now gone through most of the facts recorded in the official book of statistics for the year 1844;* and in our present article we shall group together such of the remainder as seem to invite attention.

It is satisfactory to observe, that of all the articles of raw material produced in the colony in that year, grain excepted, the exports considerably exceeded the imports.

With regard to grain, indeed, the quantity of wheat imported last year was greater than that imported in any of the last ten years, with the exception of 1840 and 1843; whilst the quantity of wheat imported during the last two years exceeded that of any other two in the whole decade. The extraordinary imports of 1840 and 1841, to make up the deficiencies caused by the failure of two successive harvests, amounted together to 530,000 bushels; but those of 1843 and 1844 amounted to 661,000 bushels.

We subjoin the return of wheat imported during the last six years, together with the average prices, as appended to the evidence of Mr. Thomas Barker in the Immigration Report.

IMPORT AND PRICE OF WHEAT.

	Bushels.	Average Price per Bushel. s.	d.
1839	171,207	16	8¾
1840	290,843	11	7
1841	239,224	7	4
1842	163,224	6	7
1843	395,374	4	3
1844	265,704	3	9

Butter and Cheese.—In 1843, the quantity imported was 248,170 lbs., and the quantity exported only 81,173 lbs.; the import exceeding the export by 166,997 lbs. In 1844, on the contrary, the import was only 60,704 lbs, whilst the export was 188,174 lbs.; the export exceeding the import by 127,470 lbs. The import had fallen off by 188,466 lbs., or upwards of 76 per cent; and the export had increased by 107,000 lbs., or upwards of 130 per cent. According to the entered money value of these commodities, the balance of our trade in them was, in 1843, against us by £6000; and in 1844, in our favour by £2500.

Salt Meat.—As the kinds and quantities of this article are not specified in the table of import, we can compare the value only. In 1843, the value of the import was £19,286, and of the export only £13,924; the import exceeding the export by £5362. But in 1844, the value of the import was no more than £3355, whilst that of the export was £18,730; the export exceeding the import by £15,375. The import had decreased by £15,900, or upwards of 82 per cent; and the export had increased by £4800, or upwards of 34 per cent.

Hides and Leather.—In 1843, the entered value of the import of hides and leather, was £36,185, and of the export only £10,305; showing a balance against the colony of £25,880. But in 1844, the value of the import was only £19,844 whilst that of the export was £22,285; showing a balance in favour of the colony of £2441. The export had fallen off by £16,341, or upwards of 45 per cent.; and the import had increased by £11,980, or upwards of 116 per cent.

Bark.—The export of this product had, in quantity, more than doubled itself, being in 1843 only 1199 tons and 6 casks, and in 1844, 2926¾ tons and 20 casks. The value in the first of these years was entered at £5179, and in the second at £9114.

Timber.—Amongst the timbers entered as import is a large quantity of sandal wood, which was of course brought hither merely for re-exportation. In 1843, the value of all the timber imported was £10,156, and of that exported £9813; in 1844, the value of the import was £4193, and of the export £8825.

Live Stock.—In 1843 we imported 31 horses, and exported 248. In 1844 we imported 52, and exported 489. The export had thus nearly doubled itself. In 1843 we imported 28 head of horned cattle, and exported 1852. In 1844 we imported 21, and exported 3329. The export had therefore increased by nearly 80 per cent. In 1843 we imported 609 sheep, and exported 77,116. In 1844 we imported 307, and exported 53,318. The export had thus fallen off by 24,798 sheep. The number of horses imported within the last ten years was 3027; the number of horned cattle imported within the last nine years was 848; and the number of sheep imported within the last eight years was 104,639. The largest number of horses imported in any one year was 1008, in 1840; of horned cattle, 244 head, also in 1840; and of sheep, 55,208, in 1837, when Port Phillip was thrown open.

Our exports of wool, tallow, and oil, were noticed by us early in the year.

Most of these facts speak very emphatically for the improving industry, enterprise, and productiveness of New South Wales.

In closing this series of articles, we should be wanting in justice were we to omit offering to Mr. Deas Thomson, the Colonial Secretary, our grateful acknowledgments of the zeal, ability, and eminent success, with which he has addressed himself to the improvement of our Statistical Returns.

We have been requested to draw particular attention to the advertisement of the Committee appointed at the Sydney Wheat Meeting, stating that they will take charge of, and forward to England, petitions from country districts on the wheat question, if they are delivered in Sydney, (at Mr. Lyons's rooms) not later than the 18th instant. A number of petitions have already been received by a member of the Committee, but several from the Upper Hunter have not yet come to hand. As it is desirable that the petitions should be presented to Parliament early in April, it is intended to forward the Sydney petition (with three thousand signatures), and such others as may be received in time, by a vessel expected to sail for England on the 20th instant.

* Our former articles were published as follows:—Population of the Colony, August 7.—Imports and Exports, Sept. 5.—Live Stock, Sept. 20.—Coin and Population, Oct. 10.—Agriculture and Population, Nov. 26.

CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, December 8.

Present: The Mayor, Aldermen Allen, Broughton, Flood, Holden, Wilshire; Councillors Sillitoe, Agars, Driver, Titterton, Smidmore, Cowlishaw, Wilkie, Coyle, Hyndes, Jenkins, Henderson, Ryan, Thurlow, and Brown.

ACCOUNTS.

The Town Clerk read a letter from the City Treasurer, laying before the Council an abstract of the accounts of the Corporation for the quarter ended 30th November, 1845.

WATER.

Alderman Allen presented a Report of the Water Committee, on the propriety of reducing the price of water to publicans, &c, from 10s to 7s. 6d. a room.

The Report was received.

TOOLS, &c.

Alderman Flood presented a Report of the Improvement Committee on the tenders for tools, &c., required for the service of the Corporation during the year 1846.

The Report was received.

MELBOURNE.

The Mayor laid upon the table papers received from the Town Council of Melbourne, being copies of By-laws, &c., of that body.

PAYMENT OF RATES.

On a motion being made for distress warrants against parties in Gipps Ward, who have not paid their rates,

Alderman Flood opposed the motion, on the ground that the parties should be sued in the Court of Requests, and not have executions put into their houses on the mere motion of any councillor, and especially because the collectors did not perform their duty properly—he having himself been served in the street with a bundle of notices with respect to premises with which he had nothing whatever to do. He proposed that the matter should be referred to a Select Committee.

Alderman Holden thought the only remedy for the evil complained of was that the collector should report the names of defaulters to the Alderman of the Ward in order that such Alderman might enquire into the particulars of each case, and if necessary direct the collector to apply for warrants of distress.

After a brief discussion, the warrants were ordered to issue in the usual manner.

The Mayor intimated his intention of examining each collector as to the manner in which he had performed his duty in the collection of rates before issuing any warrant, and he stated also that at the end of the present month he would take steps to lay before the Council an account of the arrears of rates, in order that steps might be taken to close the accounts immediately.

HACKNEY COACHES

The By-law to regulate hackney coaches, cars, &c, as adopted in Committee, was read by the Town Clerk.

The By-law, after a few verbal amendments, was adopted, and it was decided that the Town Clerk should send an engrossed copy of the same to the Governor, and publish it also in the Government Gazette for public information.

LIGHTING.

The consideration of the Report of the Lighting Committee was postponed until the next meeting, awaiting a petition which Mr. Jenkins intimated was to be sent in from the inhabitants of Phillip Ward.

WAGES

The petition of the mechanics employed by the Corporation, for an increase of wages, was referred to the Improvement Committee for their consideration and report.

FINANCE.

The report of the Finance Committee, recommending the payment of accounts, to the amount of £233, was adopted.

MR. HYNDES'S CLAIM.

The report of the Select Committee, appointed to enquire into Mr. Hyndes's claim for compensation for a portion of land which has been taken up in Sussex-street, by the proclamation of a new street, and which report was to the effect that Mr. Hyndes had no claim on the Corporation, was adopted.

WATER COMMITTEE.

The sum of £15 was voted for the purpose of forming a junction of the water pipes in George and Bathurst streets, in the terms of the report of the Water Committee.

TENDERS.

The report of the Select Committee, recommending the acceptance of the tender of Mr. Alcock for printing, and Mr. Sands for stationery, for 1846, was adopted

The Council adjourned at a quarter past six to Monday next, at 3 P.M.

GOVERNOR GREY'S INSTRUCTIONS.

Extract of a Despatch from Lord Stanley to Governor Grey, dated Downing-street, 27th June, 1845.

You will observe that in my despatch of the 11th November, 1844, while I sanctioned Captain Fitzroy's waiver of that right, subject to the condition which he then imposed, I was of opinion that a yet higher fee might have been paid than he required on such transactions. You will, of course, recognise any sales which he may have sanctioned under his last proclamation, reducing the fee to one penny per acre; but, with my present information, I am bound to say that this appears to me to have been a most impolitic arrangement; and I should earnestly impress upon you the inexpediency of allowing such purchases for the future.

* * * * *

Another subject to which your attention will have to be directed, will be the demand which will probably be made for the extension of Representative Government to New Zealand. By Representative Government, I mean the constitution of an elective assembly, with general powers of legislation for the colony. I should be very glad, if I could think that, in the present condition of the colony, it was practicable to adopt this course; but the objections to it appear to me at present to be insuperable. The first of these naturally arises from the position of the native inhabitants, whom, I consider, it would be equally impossible to admit to the exercise of the franchise, and unjust to subject to the control of a popularly elected body, not only not representing their interests, but in many respects having interests altogether opposed to theirs. But an additional and very serious difficulty presents itself in the small number and extreme dispersion of the European inhabitants. The distances between the various settlements are so great, and the means of communicating between them are so restricted, that even if it were possible to find in each of them persons properly qualified to represent the interests of their several constituencies, such persons would not have the inclination or the leisure to resort to the capital and abandon their own pursuits, for the length of time which would be requisite for the sitting of the legislature. For these, among other reasons, I think the admission of the representative system is for the present impracticable; and I would, therefore, have you direct your attention and that of the colonists to the formation of local municipal bodies, with considerable powers of taxation for local purposes, and of making the necessary by-laws, leaving the more general powers of legislation vested in the council as at present constituted. Looking to the peculiar circumstances of New Zealand, I should not object to extend the authority of those local bodies over a considerable district of the surrounding country, of the extent of which you would in each case be the judge, having in view the local circumstances, and especially the facilities of forming the districts so as not to include any large number of natives. Those who might happen to be interspersed with the Europeans in small numbers, would of course be admitted to all the privileges and subject to all the restraints and obligations of the local laws and regulations. On these bodies I think you will find it advisable to throw, as far as possible, the burthen of so much of the expenditure of your government, as can fairly be considered to be of a local character; thus endeavouring to obviate objections which might be raised to the disproportion between the taxation of any particular locality, and the benefit derived to it in the expenditure of the public revenue.

In my despatch of the 13th instant, I adverted shortly to the relations between Her Majesty's Government and the New Zealand Company. The early settlement of the pending questions respecting the Company's claims to land is of paramount importance towards the adjustment of the affairs of the colony; and it is far more necessary to take effectual steps for bringing these discussions to a final, and if possible a satisfactory conclusion, than to re-open questions of strict right, or carry on an unprofitable controversy. Her Majesty's Government had entertained the hope that the instructions already given to Captain Fitzroy would have had the effect of putting the Company's settlers in undisturbed possession of the amount of land assigned to them by the award of Mr. Pennington. It is, however, alleged by the Company, that up to the period of their latest information, they had not received, although they had made frequent and urgent applications, even a conditional grant of the smallest portion of territory. I do not understand it to be denied that many of their settlers are in undisturbed occupation of their land, but it is asserted that they have not as yet obtained any valid titles to it; unfortunately on this, as on many other points, Captain Fitzroy has left me without the means of judging of the correctness of those representations. It will be one of your first duties to make me acquainted with the exact state of the case, as between Her Majesty's Government and the Company. You will report the number and the extent of the claims made by them; of the absolute and conditional grants issued to them, and the reasons which may in any case have led to a non-compliance on the part of the local authorities with my instructions of May, 1843. You will then call upon the agent of the Company to specify to you, with the least possible delay, the whole of the lands which, on the part of the Company, he desires to select, in virtue of Mr. Pennington's award; and you will offer to him, at once, conditional grants of the whole of them, in conformity with my former instructions; it is of course impossible for me to estimate the proportion of these grants, which may be ultimately undisputed; I can only repeat to you the instructions which I have already given to Captain Fitzroy, to endeavour by amicable co-operation with Colonel Wakefield, to remove obstacles arising from unsatisfied native claims, and to discourage, as far as lies in your power, any exorbitant or extortionate demands on the Company on this head.

The Court of Requests.—This Court commenced its sittings yesterday, with a list of 253 cases, and adjourned till ten o'clock to-day, when No. 60 will be the first case for hearing.

Police Court Business—Monday.—There was one woman and fifteen men on the list of drunkards: the woman and five of the men paid each 11s.; another man was ordered to pay 11s. or to be confined in the cells for twenty-four hours; the other nine men were admonished and discharged. There were four summons cases, viz., three for assault, one of which was settled out of Court; the other assault cases were Joseph Abrahams v. J. G. Cohen, dismissed, the proof being defective; and Margaret Hughes v. John Cox, also for an assault, dismissed, no appearance. The remaining summons case was John Ruttenberg v. Charles Smith, for refusing to pay wages for services as seaman on board the Woodlark, whaler, postponed till Thursday for proof of service of the summons. There were three remanded cases on the list of miscellaneous charges, viz, Henry and Margaret Bubb, for receiving stolen property, again remanded; John Usher, for having stolen a horse, value £60, the property of Richard Jackson, in May, 1842, was committed for trial. There were twenty-two new cases on the same list, viz, James Taseker and Margaret Francis, for having stolen property in their possession, both remanded; George Sheppard, for assaulting Henry Thomas, fined 20s. and 4s. 6d. costs; one for assault, one for being illegally on Mr. Stewart's premises, one for using obscene language, one for assaulting Constable Bell and attempting to rescue a prisoner, all discharged; five seamen belonging to the barque Agostino, Captain Volum, for being absent from their vessel without leave, all ordered to be returned on board their vessel by the Water Police; John Chalmers, a seaman belonging to the same vessel, for assaulting J. H. Daniels, Chief Officer of the said vessel, on her voyage from Cadiz to Sydney, fined 20s. and 5s. 2d. costs; William Sumner, for absenting himself from his hired service, being found guilty, the prisoner's wages were ordered to be forfeited, and he himself to be returned to his service; Maurice Marooney, for a breach of the peace, and Mary Adams, for protection, both bound to keep the peace in £20, and two sureties in £10 each, for twelve months; one case for stealing an ox tongue, remanded till to-day; and one case by Constable Lowe against John Paterson, for being drunk and assaulting him in York-street on Sunday afternoon, ordered to pay a fine of 20s. and 2s. 6d. costs, or to be imprisoned in gaol for twenty-one days.

The Weather.—During the greater part of last week the heat in Sydney was excessive, and there were continued indications of the atmosphere being highly charged with electricity. Between five and six o'clock on Saturday evening there was a pretty smart thunderstorm, accompanied with heavy showers: the storm passed away about six o'clock, and about seven the rain set in, and there was a series of delightful showers until after midnight. During the whole of Sunday the atmosphere was clouded, but no rain fell. Shortly after midnight, however, a tremendous thunderstorm passed over Sydney, and the rain poured down in torrents. The lightning was fearfully brilliant, the flashes during the height of the storm being almost continuous; and the thunder was awfully grand. When the storm was over Sydney the dome of the Police-office was struck and a large quantity of glass broken; in Elizabeth-street the lightning entered a house and knocked down a partition and a large quantity of plastering; a house in Phillip-street was also much damaged; at South Head the fluid struck the chimney of a house, forced out a window, smashed a window frame, and scattered splinters in all directions. In several other houses trifling damage was done, but although there were people in bed in all of them, there was providentially no personal injury received. The rain ceased soon after the storm had passed over. About four o'clock yesterday afternoon we were again visited with thunder and lightning (but it was comparatively trifling), and the rain again descended for several hours, and we are in great hopes that a large tract of country has been visited by rain as copiously as the neighbourhood of Sydney has been.

Almanacs.—We have to acknowledge the receipt of Mr. Moffitt's annual publications, the Sheet Almanac and the Memorandum Book. They contain the information usually looked for in such publications, and the Diary more especially is exceedingly useful.—Tegg's Almanac, published by Mr. Colman, of George-street, was issued yesterday, and, like the abovementioned sheet, is replete with useful and important information.

House Robbery.—Between seven and eleven o'clock on Saturday evening, Thomas Long, a quarryman, residing with a man named Holmes, happened to go to market with Mrs. Holmes; on his return he found that his box had been broken open, and the contents, viz.:—£7 in notes and 10s. in silver, and a quantity of clothing, value £10, carried off. The entrance appears to have been effected through the back door, from which the lock bolts had been pushed back by applying a jemmy or a screw-driver. It appears that three other boxes on the same premises were also broken open and rummaged by the same burglars.

We are requested by Mr. Cohen to direct the particular attention of publicans, storekeepers, general dealers and others, to the sale of sporting and other pictures, this day, combining all subjects mostly sought after and generally admired; the sale will commence at eleven o'clock precisely.—Communicated.

Mr. Charles Newton has requested us to direct the attention of the trade to his extensive and unreserved sale of drapery, slops, silks, &c., which will take place this day, at his Rooms, Pitt-street, instead of Thursday next, as before announced. The sale will commence at half-past ten o'clock precisely.—Communicated.

Inquests.—Yesterday morning, two inquests were held at Mr. Stone's public-house, the King's Arms, Lower George-street. The first was on the body of Joseph Crawford, then lying dead on board the Hamlet, at Campbell's Wharf, when the following evidence was given:—Samuel Parr, seaman belonging to the Hamlet, deposed that on Sunday forenoon he and deceased were sitting fishing on the Wharf, when the deceased went into a small boat to bathe; he had only been a minute or two in the water when he called for help, when witness and another seaman leaped into the water and brought him on shore; after which he walked some distance, re-entered the boat, and while in the act of putting on his shirt fell back and instantly expired. Deceased was, to all appearance, in his usual health before he went into the water to bathe; he had assisted early in the morning to wash down the ship's decks, and had partaken of a hearty breakfast; the sun was shining very strong at the time; the deceased appeared to be quite cool when he went to bathe; he was a very sober man, and had been in the vessel ever since she sailed from England.—Dr. P. M. Hosking: Had been called on to see the deceased, and found the body warm, but life was extinct; death might have been caused by a sun-stroke, or by the rupture of a blood-vessel on the brain or in the heart; from the history of the case death had been the result of natural causes, as there were no marks of violence on the body. A verdict of died by the visitation of God was recorded.—The other inquest was on the body of Ah Cowe, a Chinese seaman belonging to the Castle Eden, then lying dead at the house of George Dent, when the following evidence was given:—Charles Perry, a seaman belonging to the Castle Eden, deposed that between four and five o'clock on Saturday afternoon, he and deceased went up to the mainyard of that vessel for the purpose of sending down a tackle block, when deceased placed his feet on the lashing to keep the block and its appendages from moving, while the lashing was being cast off, when the weight of the block and its appendages made it gather way, so that it descended with great velocity to the deck, and in its progress the deceased was thrown over the yard, fell on some spars, and from them on to the deck, by which he was so severely injured that he expired within a few minutes after he had fallen from the yard. The tackle getting way was caused by the deceased not being attentive to keep his foot firm on the tackle.—Dr. Tierney: Had viewed the body of the deceased, and found the skull very generally fractured—sufficient to cause death, and would probably have been produced by the body falling from a height of sixty feet, as had been deposed to by the preceding witness. A verdict of killed by accidentally falling from the mainyard of a vessel was recorded.

Agricultural Association.—An Agricultural Association has been formed at Patrick's Plains, of which Mr. Helenus Scott has been appointed President. The first Resolution shows the reasons that induced the settlers of the district to form an association of their own, instead of becoming a branch of the Hunter River Society, of which the head quarters is at Maitland "That this meeting, taking into consideration the many disadvantages under which the agriculturists of this and the adjoining districts labour, do, with a view to stimulate them to increased exertion, form themselves into a society, to be called the 'Patrick's Plains and Upper Hunter Agricultural Association,' for the purpose of giving premiums to the parties producing the best specimens of stock and produce, and for other purposes to be hereafter resolved upon."

NEWS FROM THE INTERIOR.

(From our various Correspondents.)

WINDSOR.

Police Office.—On Tuesday last, (before W Cox, Esq., J.P., and L. D. Whitaker, Esq., J.P.,) Benjamin Burgoyne, alias "Ben the Fisherman," appeared to answer a charge of illegally using fire-arms within the precincts of the town of Windsor, in having, on one day during the preceding week, shot a certain ferocious dog, which he alleged had run at him with the intention of biting or doing him some grievous bodily harm. Mr. Johnson appeared for the defendant. Notwithstanding all the legal acumen displayed by that gentleman on behalf of his unfortunate client, the bench, after hearing the evidence on both sides, decided that the charge was substantiated, and therefore mulct him in the sum of 20s. and costs, which after some hesitation and apparent reluctance he paid, rather than undergo the alternative.

Obstruction.—A large old wall, standing on Baker's-square, opposite Messrs. Betts and Panton's, which had been tottering for some time, fell late on Thursday night or early on Friday morning, with a sudden and terrible crash, across Baker-street. Fortunately no one was passing at the time, else most assuredly they would have been killed on the spot. The obstruction which the rubbish has caused renders it very dangerous at night for both pedestrians and equestrians; and how a removal is to be effected is a matter of some doubt. What with an inoperative District Council, no Police Magistrate, no Corporation of any sort, not even a J.P. in town, we are in a hopeless state. The only way such a matter can be managed is by public subscription; and we trust that some person or persons will be good enough to start so desirable a project.

The Weather.—On Saturday morning last, our drooping spirits underwent a temporary cheering, when we beheld the favourable appearance of the long-wished-for rain. The clouds were heavy, and eagerly and with pleasure did we look forward to their bursting and pouring their aqueous contents upon our thirsty soil. It commenced in right earnest on the afternoon of that day, and continued with little intermission during the whole of the night. On Sunday morning, the fields looked exceedingly refreshed, and on the whole presented the most gratifying aspect. The good that will result from this timely visitation is infinite,—for the corn, and more particularly the grass, as will be seen by reference to our last communication, was almost burnt up.

ORIGINAL CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

Gentlemen,—Your correspondent Humilitas undertakes to justify the Council in their late unsuccessful attempt upon the faith of the colony, but the mode of argument he has adopted confirms instead of confuting the opinions I have expressed in my former letter. I there proved that the endowment of modern Judaism could not be defended on Christian principles, and Humilitas defends it on infidel principles, therefore his reasoning corroborates mine. In the letter of A Jew I find no argument at all, but only pure invective, mixed with uncandid misrepresentation of my meaning, a mode of attack to which Humilitas also has resorted. In justice to A Jew, however, I am constrained to admit, that while he exclaims with vehement detestation against my narrow-minded bigotry, and accuses me of a variety of offences in act and in intention, he is content with subjecting me to a very refined and merciful punishment. "If the dawn of liberality," he says, "could ever reach such a mind, the punishment he will then receive will be quite sufficient in the knowledge he once wrote a letter containing such sentiments as are there promulgated." A Jew will be concerned to hear that in the interval which has elapsed since the commission of my crime, distinguished though that interval has been by the publication of his letter, and that of Humilitas, not a ray of that resplendent dawn has reached me. I am still in Cimmerian darkness, but am desirous of instruction; will Humilitas deign to be my preceptor? What is this dawn of liberality, I enquire, and the great logician answers "Truth is a relative term." "Religious truth is only another word for strong opinion, a matter not admitting of certainty." It is "a part of every man's duty to have a religious creed," but not "consistent with Christian humility, or manly candour to assume as against (those who differ from us) that (we) are right, and (they) are wrong." And is this the dawn of liberality? "Visions of glory spare my aching sight." My feeble comprehension is dazzled and bewildered, and fails to interpret these mystic axioms. But in all modesty I would ask Humilitas, does he mean (and I here refer to an event which I venture not to mention in a light spirit) that a statement of facts is true because a Christian believes it, and that another statement directly contradicting it, is also true because a Jew believes it? Does he mean in effect that every thing in religion is like the external world of the Pyrrhonist, a thing which has no existence except in the conceptions of the mind, that true is false, and false is true, in conformity with the ever shifting opinions of human beings; in short, that there is no truth, and that immortal souls are doomed to wander through an endless maize of error and uncertainty? Are these your doctrines? Is this the dawn of liberality? Well then, let A Jew and Humilitas entitle it as they may, I call it dark unbelief.

Let not Humilitas deceive himself, his arguments are those of a sceptic, and every sceptic is an infidel. Scepticism and unbelief are synonymous terms. I have conversed with many unbelievers, unfortunately they abound in this colony. I have seen them in close disputation, fighting for every inch of ground, gradually driven from all their untenable outposts, and forced to retire into the inner citadel in which their souls trusted; and it was instructive to observe that scepticism was ever the last strong hold into which they retreated. The conversation in these cases is usually closed by the sceptic in words to this purpose, "All that you urge may be true, but how can I tell whether it is or no?" To this point, the subtlety of Hume, and the stolidity of inferior minds are alike conducted. He, in order to secure his philosophic tranquillity, invented an ingenious sophism which pretended to prove that on religious subjects reasoning is useless; others, from sheer incompetence to connect two ideas together, or from indolence to undertake the task of enquiry, are content to remain in pernicious scepticism. And is it, I would ask, on this quicksand which is the common resort of unbelievers, that our legislators would erect the temple of their country's faith?

They aspire to the praise of impartiality, but let them not be deceived when such a question presents itself it is impossible to be impartial. Their decision will inevitably have its influence with many unthinking persons, and a decision they must give, either for the Christian or the sceptic. Within the limits of the Christian religion uncertainties may exist, not without injury to, but at least without the destruction of essential truth. Not so when we pass beyond the pall of Christianity—not so when the very mission of Christ himself is the matter in dispute. Such is the antagonism between Judaism and Christianity that the government which endows both, disowns both, and gives direct sanction to infidelity. There are here three opinions; on one side, the certainty of the Christian; on the other side, the certainty of the Jew; and midway, "like the blank leaf between the Old Testament and the New," the uncertainty of the sceptic. Our Legislative Council chose the last.

Humilitas may endeavour to embarrass the subject with sophisms and declamation, but in reality only one question is involved. It is this, "Has Christ risen from the dead?" This question is about a matter of fact, not about an abstruse principle of metaphysics, as Humilitas seems to imagine. If Christ has risen from the dead, then to him all power is committed in heaven and in earth, and from him all princes and legislators hold their authority: among heathens unconsciously, among Christians (it should be) with faith and reverence. And to him they are accountable for its exercise. In the pliant creed of Humilitas, this is mere doctrine, a strong opinion, true in Christian theology, false in Jewish theology, and doubtful in politics. From such a blind chaos of absurdities may he yet be rescued; and as he quotes scripture, I would recommend to his serious consideration the two following passages—"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." "Whoever shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my father which is in heaven; but whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my father who is in heaven." And let him place the last text in juxta-position with his own maxim, that every one should have a creed, in which he is not to believe when it is opposed.

Notwithstanding all their professions of candour, the apostles of this new dawn of liberality are ready, like unfair disputants, to stifle adverse opinions, and silence opponents, by imputing odious motives. I am branded as a "persecutor," one "tainted by the lust of domination," and disposed to oppress, grind down, &c. Can anything be more unfair than to impute principles which I have disclaimed? Can anything be more stupid and unjust to confound a refusal to endow, with a disposition to persecute? There is not a single syllable in my letter which, when fairly construed, can fix upon me such reproaches. I have indeed described the Jew as a "citizen of the world," and thence it is inferred that I would deal with him as an alien, and deprive him of civil rights. What I intended by the phrase will be obvious to any intelligent and candid person who examines the passage where it occurs, and to prevent any further mistakes or misapprehension, I will state what I did not intend. I did not mean to impute disloyalty or disaffection to the British Jews, or to pronounce them incompetent to enjoy any privileges which the constitution of England bestows.

In another part of my letter occurred the following sentences. "Let us not in any way persecute or needlessly insult the Jew, nor let us discourage him from residing among us His presence is a most useful auxiliary to the ministers of the Saviour, &c." Here was a fortuitous sequence of thought; but here my logical opponent has been delighted to discover a connected argument, a conclusion, and a premise; and he infers that I am restrained from desiring to persecute the Jew, only because his presence is of some service in theology; and upon this rather narrow grounds I am convicted of a multitude of offences and follies. However, I am grateful to Humilitas for having noticed the passage, as an opportunity is now afforded me of explaining more distinctly what are my feelings towards this people. I did not then, and I need not now, refer particularly to the "inalienable rights of our common nature." These are his without my sanction, though not without my full concurrence. But besides those rights which are his in common with all other men, the Jew, for peculiar reasons, is an object of interest, almost of respect to many Christians as well as myself. And, to the statements which I have already made upon this subject, I may now add, that I have long cherished the belief, that the Jews have been preserved through many centuries of trial by a special providence, and for a special purpose, and that eventually, they will be restored to their own land, and there bend down before that Divine Prince whom in their madness they rejected.

And I would request A Jew to receive from me the earnest assurance, that I am most unwilling to wound his feelings, and that I feel pain myself in giving him offence, even when I consider it needful, as in the present instance.

I hope, Gentlemen, the regulations of your paper will permit you to insert this reply, and by doing so you will oblige

MESSRS. CHRISTOPHER NEWTON AND BROTHER are desirous to remind their friends that the time is approaching when they must close their establishment for the purpose of

As this event will take place on the 31st of December, they are determined to offer every inducement to

They have pleasure in submitting a general list of their stock, feeling certain that the public must tire of reading long advertisements; and at the same time feeling equally certain that the inhabitants of this vast country, well know the prices, the qualities, and the system of business at this great depôt of foreign and British manufactured goods.

TO SETTLERS, STOREKEEPERS, AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

DAVID JONES AND CO., Wholesale and Retail Linen and Woollen Drapers, Silk Mercers, Hosiers, and Haberdashers, Glovers, Lacemen, Slopsellers, Hatters, &c., &c., avail themselves of the present opportunity to inform settlers and others, who, during the wool season, usually visit Sydney, that having completed their extensive alterations, and made great accessions to their already unrivalled stock, by recent importations from England, they are now in a position to offer the various articles hereunder enumerated, at such extremely low prices, as have never been before submitted to the public of New South Wales.

Messrs. David Jones and Co. flatter themselves that as they have never lent themselves to the system of puffing, adopted by other houses they can confidently rely on the present address being received as a genuine statement. They beg to remind settlers and others, that nearly the whole of their immense stock having been bought in the best English Markets, on the most reasonable terms they are enabled to offer the same fully 20 per cent. under houses purchasing in the colonial market. They particularly solicit a visit from their old customers, and promise them that by purchasing for cash they will find advantages in their establishment which it is not in the power of any other house to offer.

The system of attaching prices to particular goods, being only calculated to mislead, is purposely avoided.
